KS2 guide

Hello, and welcome to YHA

Over the next few pages we're going to tell you a lot about the memorable, perspective-shifting residentials that we offer, and help you discover which one is right for you. But first, we'd like to tell you a bit about YHA and how we came to be one of the leading outdoor education providers in the UK.

YHA officially formed on 10th April 1930. We were established on a shoestring by a band of passionate volunteers. Our founders gave ordinary young people in Britain the opportunity - for the very first time - to escape to the countryside and enjoy leisure pursuits on a scale only previously possible for the wealthy.

Our founding purpose still goes to the core of what we stand for. Today, YHA has more than 80 Learning Outside the Classroom accredited sites, more than any residential provider in the UK. Our diverse network of hostels is full to bursting with knowledgeable staff who make every school trip memorable and rewarding. Our action, adventure and activity packages are national curriculum-linked and can be tailored to meet the specific requirements of your group. We offer self-led residentials as well as day activities. And everything we offer is set against a backdrop of inspiring surroundings in the natural environment.

We've spent decades perfecting what we do. And we'd love to share it with you. So, let's get started.

Our charitable objective

To help all, especially young people of limited means, to a greater knowledge, love and care of the countryside, and appreciation of the cultural values of towns and cities, particularly by providing youth hostels or other accommodation for them in their travels, and thus to promote their health, recreation and education.

Access for all

We create unique opportunities for people from all backgrounds to experience amazing places, share extraordinary journeys and take a different path through life.

YHA offers support to educational groups where members of the group are eligible for pupil premium and where children and young people face additional social challenges. We are particularly keen to support groups of young people who have not undertaken a residential activity previously.

Take your school to any one of our 130+ hostels

With a YHA school trip you can be assured of a safe, fulfilling and unforgettable residential that will stay with students long after the coach journey home.

Working together with teachers and experts in their fields, we have prepared a range of fully flexible residential options for school groups of all shapes, sizes and abilities.

Your pupils could be scrambling up a rock face, abseiling down a viaduct or canoeing on a real lake. They could be connecting with nature and discovering how to help protect the natural environment.

You can enhance your stay by adding on options such as searching for life on the seashore, taking part in medieval banquets or learning the art of teamwork.

Our flexible approach to planning your residential sets us apart from other providers. Whether you want a self-led adventure, the whole place to yourselves, activities and meals provided, or a bespoke combination, our experienced staff will create a tailor-made residential to meet the educational needs of your class and offer exciting ways to engage, challenge and inspire every member of your group.

We want to be as green as our logo

We have a long history of caring for the natural world. And we know just how vital it is to be aware of our environmental impact. Since September 2019, we no longer provide single-use plastic bottles in packed lunches at any hostels. Thanks to a successful bid for grants from Waitrose and Partners and Hostelling International, we have been busy rolling out water refilling stations across our network. This will remove 500,000 plastic bottles from our network every year.

Some of our green initiatives:

- We've increased on site recycling by 8%, saving 888 tonnes of carbon in the first six months
- We've saved 22 tonnes of carbon per year by installing LED lightbulbs at our National Office
- We swapped our membership cards from plastic to cardboard
- We've removed single-use plastic straws and drinks stirrers from our bars and cafés, saving 100,000 per year

Meet the manager

Our hostel staff are pretty special. With backgrounds ranging from education to hospitality, travel to outdoor adventure, each member of staff is as unique as our hostels. They do, however, have one thing in common: an absolute passion for helping young people discover skills and abilities they never knew they had.

Linda is the hostel manager at YHA St Briavels Castle in Gloucestershire.

Can you tell us a bit about your background and experience with YHA?

I studied archaeology at university and have a lifelong interest in history, so the castle and I are a perfect fit! My holidays and time off are filled with visiting other castles and places of historic interest. I started working for YHA in 1995 and enjoyed it so much I came back the following season and never left. I have managed hostels in the Yorkshire Dales and Devon, and then in 2012 discovered the hidden gems that are the hostels in the Forest of Dean and Wye Valley.

What is your favourite activity to provide on a school residential?

I really enjoy the castle tour as it is an opportunity to share my love of history and reveal the castle's hidden secrets. It also hopefully inspires young people to go out and explore other amazing places and look after our heritage for future generations to enjoy.

I really enjoy the castle tour as it is an opportunity to share my love of history and reveal the castle's hidden secrets. It also hopefully inspires young people to go out and explore other amazing places.

What subjects do you cover?

The castle is a superb base for a residential. There are a range of options to choose from, with bolt-on added extras like a full-blown medieval banquet or archery or you can choose a full activity package. Although we offer a fantastic range of medieval themed activities to support castle and history themed topics, we are not only about history at this site. We also transform into a secret spy training ground for the Alex Rider packages that focus on teamwork, literacy and personal development (including a chance to be adventurous and kayak on the Wye or abseil Symonds Yat Rock). Schools can also choose the discovery package and mix and match activities to suit their aims and objectives for the visit, even if that is 'just for fun'!

How do you support teachers planning a school trip?

From the moment of the initial booking we have contact with the teachers to help them plan their visit. We provide lots of information and advice, welcome teachers on preliminary visits and have a pre-arrival pack that contains everything needed for a successful trip. We are always happy to help.

What makes your hostel the perfect base for school trips?

There's nowhere like St Briavels. A residential with YHA guarantees a memorable experience in a fabulous setting, with the security and assurance of our LOtC accreditation. We're also a 900-year-old castle that can literally bring history to life for students.

Familiarisation events

We're proud of our residential. Our dedicated and experienced teams provide an experience that is tailored to the needs of your group and they deliver real adventures and activities in the great outdoors.

We want to show you just what we can do. That's why we've organised a series of teacher and group leader familiarisation events throughout our network of locations in England and Wales that we'd love you to attend.

Our events will:

- enable you and your family to experience an overnight stay as well as some of the fantastic locations and facilities that we have to offer
- give you the opportunity to participate in some of the activities we can offer to schools
- let you meet representatives from some of the local attractions in the area that your group can visit during your trip
- let you sample the delights of our delicious groups menu

Once you've booked your residential with us, you will also have the option to come and give us a test run with a free planning visit.

Mental health and wellbeing

Mental health is as important as physical health. And, as with physical health, our experiences in childhood often determine our wellbeing as an adult. Most of us grow up mentally healthy, but research suggests that compared with 30 years ago, more children and young people are developing problems with their mental health. We know how access to the outdoors and physical activity can improve your mental health. But experiences with YHA can offer much more than that.

Research by Learning Away has shown that taking part in a residential can have a transformative effect on young people. They improve resilience, relationships and achievement, and they increase confidence to try new things.

Research by Learning Away:

- 77% increased attainment
- 84% improved relationships
- 71% better engagement
- 82% increased confidence

Learning Away Final Evaluation Report, York Consulting 2015

A YHA residential creates opportunities for personal growth and group bonding. Young people are given the chance to break with the distractions and complications of home and stretch themselves, work together, understand each other and communicate better.

Your say

The value of residentials shared by teachers

The children gain valuable experience and life-skills during these visits, things that cannot easily be delivered in the school setting: extracting your friend from a muddy ditch, lending support to a less than enthusiastic member of the class or trying to remember your way around an unfamiliar setting. A visit in the winter months creates a reservoir of memories that will stay with the children for the rest of their lives.

St Wilfrid's CE Primary School

This was an experience that will never be forgotten by our pupils. They spent their entire time away with ear-to-ear smiles on their faces, making memories and making the most of experiences that have been missed out on for over a year.

St. Andrew's Primary School

groups.yha.org.uk

The team were amazing, so accommodating and they understood the importance of these trips for our pupils (many of whom had never been away from home overnight before as Year 6 trips were cancelled due to COVID-19) and they couldn't have done more for us. Thank you.
